Task	Responsibility and Information Flow	Notes
Review the services of consultants Architect's role: ▪ Be familiar with the engineering work ▪ Note significant or apparent issues during own site visits ▪ Bring those issues to the attention of the respective consultants ▪ Direct findings through proper channels for action or review ▪ Review reports prepared by consultants for clarity, scope and emergent issues ▪ Copy reports to authorities having jurisdiction as appropriate Consultants' role: ▪ Review and provide the site functions as required at times appropriate to the stage of construction ▪ Provide written site review reports each time they visit the site, copied to contractor	Architect and consultants	